

Shared Email Account/Mailbox via Outlook

William Crehore - 2021-10-26 - Communication & Collaboration

Email accounts & mailboxes can be delegated to multiple people for shared use.

A request for a shared mailbox can be submitted at <https://go.vcu.edu/SOMTicket>

After access to a mailbox has been delegated, it may take up to 1 hour for the changes to take effect.

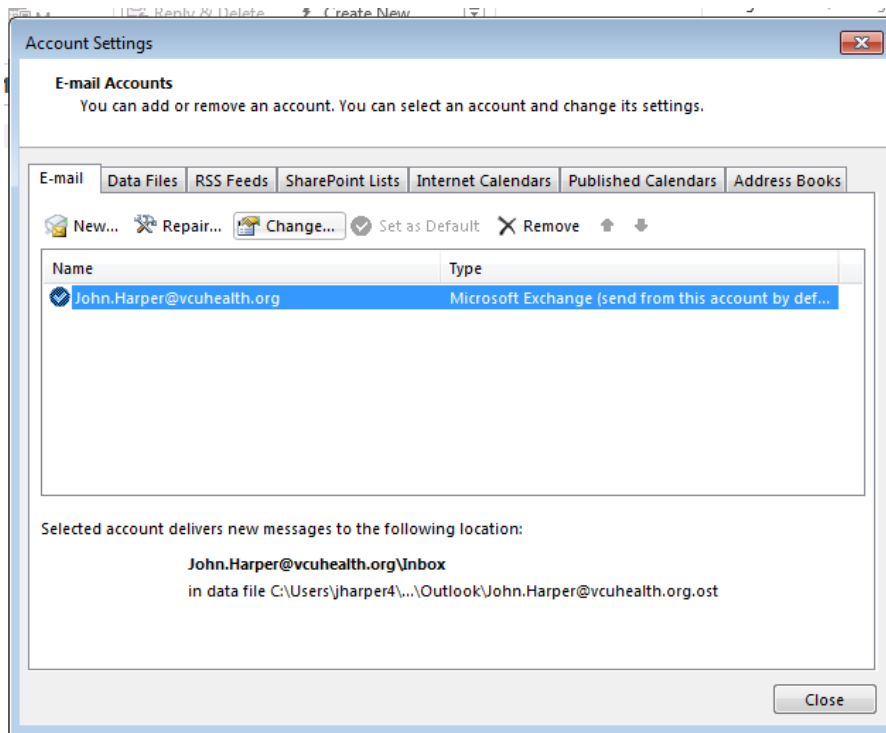

Adding Mailbox to Outlook (Windows, macOS, Outlook Web Access)

Windows Outlook client

1. Click File
2. Click Account Settings, then select Account Settings again

3. Select your @VCUHealth.org account and click Change

4. Click More Settings

5. Click the Advanced tab, and under Open These Additional Mailboxes click Add.

6. Type the full email address of the shared mailbox in the Add Mailbox window. Click OK.

7. The mailbox will now be listed under Open These Additional Mailboxes.
8. Click Apply and OK.
9. Click Next and then choose Finish
10. The mailbox should now appear in the navigation pane.

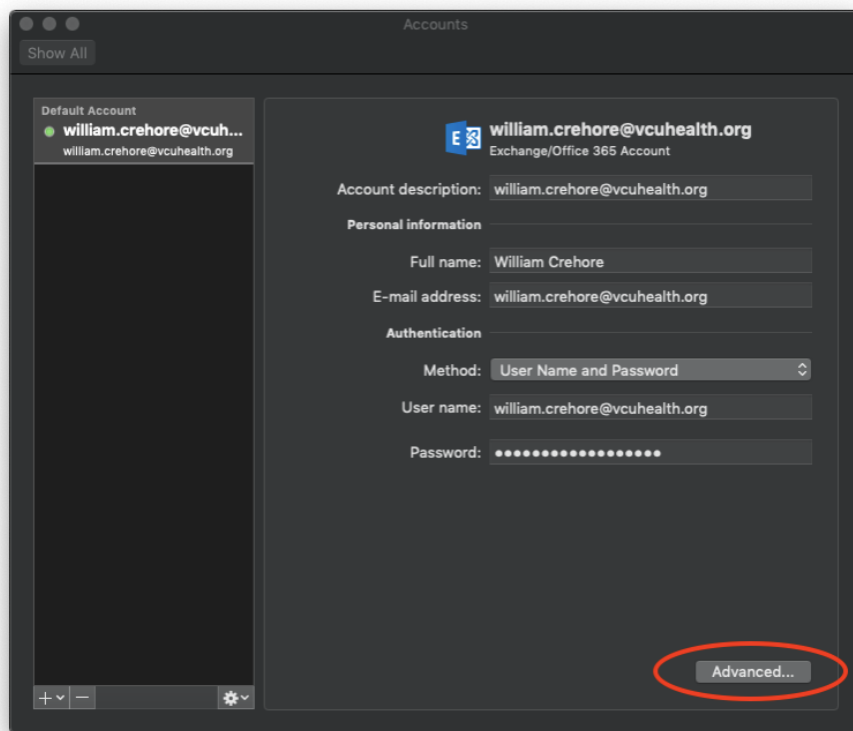

11. It may take some time for the mailbox to fully load all email, especially if it contains a large amount of email.

macOS Outlook client

1. Open Outlook Preferences

2. Go to Accounts
3. Open Advanced

4. Go to the Delegates tab
5. Under Open these additional mailboxes: click the + to add the mailbox

6. Type in the mailbox address to search, choose the appropriate result, and click Add

7. Click OK to go back to Accounts. You can now close out of Preferences
8. The mailbox will begin to load, it may take a few minutes. You'll see two new entries on your left sidebar. An entry for All Accounts and one for the new mailbox you added.

Optional: Outlook Web Access

1. Login to OWA & click More in the left sidebar

2. Right click on your name > Select Add Shared Folder

3. Search for the mailbox you want to add
4. Find the mailbox & click once to select it & click Add

Add shared folder

Enter the name or email address of a user who has shared folders with you.

The dropdown menu shows a user profile for Enterprise_Analytics with the email address EnterpriseAnalytics@vcuhealth.org. Below the profile is a search icon and the text "Search contacts and directory".

5. The shared mailbox will now appear in the left sidebar
